The Italian Song call'd Pastorella made into an English Dialogue by M^r Tho: Dursley.

Blowzabella my Bouncing Doxie come letts Judg it to Kirkham faire, Theres Stout liquor enough to foz me & young Cullys to buy thy Ware (She) Mind your matters yee Sott without meddling, how I manage y^e sale of my Toyes, gett by Piping as I doe by Pedling, you need never want me for Supplis, (He) God a mercy my Sweeting I find thou thinkst fitting, to hint by this twitting, I owe thee A Crowne, (She) Tho for that I've bin staying A greater debts paying your rate of delaying will never Compound, (He) He come home when the Powch is full & Soundly pay thee all old Arreares, (She) you'l forgett it your Pate's soe Dull as by late drowzy neglect appears, (He) may y^e Drone of my Bagg never hum, If I faile to remember my Blowze, (She) may my Buttocks be every ones Drum, If I thinke thou wilt pay me A souse, (He) squeakum, Squeakum, Bagpipe will make em, whisking, frisking, money bring in;
(She) Smoking, Topping, Landlady groping, whores & scores will spend it a gen,
(He) by y^e best as I guesse in y^e Town, I sweare thou shalt have ery groat, (She) by the worst that A woman ere found, if I have it will signify nought;
(He) If good nature works noe better Blowzabella I'de have ye to know

Tho you fancy my Stock is soe long, I've more Rhimo then alwayes I show, for Some good reasons of state that I know, (She) Since with cheating I alwayes knen for my ware I gott something too, I've more sence then to tell to you, (He) Singly then lets employ witt, I'll use pipe as my gain dos hitt, (She) And if I A new Chapman gett, you'll be easy too, (He) Easy as any worne out Shooe.
